DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6-10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lonati et al (US 6,082,145).

The disclosure of Lonati et al (US 6,082,145) teaches the invention as claimed including a process for knitting an article of ladies' underwear in one piece of tubular knitwear, comprising: holding a plurality of contiguous stitches substantially aligned relative to a weft direction to knit a basque (3) along an edge of a lower part of the article; and releasing the plurality of contiguous stitches in areas of the basque facing a pair of cups to form at least one bead approximately parallel to the basque in the areas so as to create a pair of stays in the basque edging the pair of cups. See column 2, paragraphs 9 and 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lonati et al (US 6,082,145) in view of Schuster et al (US 5,592,836).

The disclosure Lonati et al (US 6,082,145) teaches the invention substantially as claimed as set forth above. However the cross section of the stay support does not vary. The disclosure of Schuster et al discloses a knitted in bra support section (32) which varies in cross section. One of ordinary skill in the art realizes that varying the cross section of the support creates varying degrees of support in different areas of the knit structure. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to vary the cross section of the support of Lonati et al as shown by Schuster et al in order to provide varying degrees of support to different areas of the brassiere.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lonati et al (US 6,082,145).

The disclosure of Lonati et al (US 6,082,145) teaches the invention substantially as claimed as set forth above. However, Lonati does not set forth the specific yarn material. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to use the specific materials as claimed since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
